Special Collection Today

For Catholic Communication & Catholic University

There was some sort of mix-up last week on this Special Collection. We had put it in our Bulletin that the collection was this week, but upon looking at the list of collections for 2010 for our Archdiocese of New York, the collection was slated to be held on January 10th, which was last week.

When I announced it, I was told that I was in error because the collection was to be taken up on the 17th and not on the 10th. We had already taken up the collection at the 5:30 Mass of Saturday evening but we did not take up the collection for Sunday morning Masses. Upon checking the list once again, we ascertained that the collection was supposed to have been taken up last Sunday as we originally announced.

So in order to make things straight, we will not take up the special collection for Saturday night, but we still have to do it for Sunday Masses, and then send it in this week. The collection once again was for the Catholic Communications Campaign, and also for Catholic University. Both need to be supported and for this reason we ask your generous support.

Personal Calendars for 2010

We likewise were to distribute the Personal Calendars for 2010 last week, but as it happened they remain in our stock room for another week. We managed to get some out for distribution for the 12 noon Mass on Sunday, but we did not distribute them for the 9 am Mass on Sunday or the 5:30 pm Mass on Saturday evening. They will be distributed this week at those Masses.

One Bulb At A Time

A High school physics teacher once told her students that while one grasshopper on the railroad tracks would not slow a train significantly, a billion of them would. With that thought in mind, read the following obviously written by a good American.

“Check this out, because I was in Lowes the other day for some reason and just for the heck of it, I decided to price the hose attachments - they were all made in China. The next day, I was in Ace Hardware and I checked out the same attachments there and they were all made in the USA.

In our current economic situation, I would think that we should LOOK before we BUY because every little thing we do affects someone else and perhaps even their job and I think this person is on the right track. Let’s get behind her.

She goes on to tell us, My grandson likes Hersey’s Candy. But I noticed that it is now made in MEXICO, So I try not to buy it any more.

My favorite toothpaste was Colgate. This is now made in MEXICO. I have switched to Crest.

This past week-end I was at the supermarket and needed lightbulbs and B ounce Dryer Sheets. Right next to the GE brand which I normally buy was an off brand label. The GE brand were more money and made in MEXICO while the off-brand was made in Cleveland, USA and cost less., And when I went to buy the BOUNCE, i looked at where it was made, I found out it was Made in ‘Canada, while an every day value brand was made right here in the USA, & I need not tell you that Bounce was almost twice the cost..

We advise you to start reading labels and try as much as possible to buy items made in the USA, thereby saving your own job as well as your neighbor’s job which in today’s economy may be endangered.
